

Newsletter August 2018

France

For many years, France has been a popular holiday destination for those who love its beautiful nature, rich culture and pleasant climate. However, France could also prove an attractive location to continue your career. Both metropolitan and rural areas struggle to find physicians locally. This leads to attractive employment opportunities for those willing to consider a relocation. In France physicians either work in a state or private hospital or chose to run their own practice. Therefore you have the freedom to opt for employment conditions measured to your needs. Lack of knowledge of the French language is a problem to many. Therefore MMedical and its local partner work together to find you your ideal job and provide you French language training specifically aimed at the words and phrases needed in your everyday job. Also we can help you adjust to the local medical culture. We only work together with hospitals and clinics who are willing to invest in your language training, therefore this training will be part of your job offer.

Vacancies are available throughout France. For more information, please get in touch with one of our recruitment consultants.

Privacy

Following the introduction of new privacy regulation within the European Union, we would like to inform on the following. As you can imagine MMedical can't provide its services without using personal data. The protection of personal data and privacy of our candidates and clients is of utmost importance to us. MMedical handles and processes personal data with eye for security and confidentiality.

For additional information please refer to our Cookies & Privacy section. terecht.